MINUTES
Board of Regents
November 22, 2013

The Board of Regents of Washington State University met pursuant to call in Open Meeting at 8:00 a.m., on Friday, November 22, 2013 in the Nursing Building, Room 205, Spokane, Washington.

Present:  Regent Connie Niva, Chair; Regents, Ted Baseler, Scott Carson, T. Ryan Durkan, Francois Forgette, Laura Jennings (via phone), Lindsey Schaffer, Ron Sims and Michael Worthy; President Elson S. Floyd, and Interim Provost and Executive Vice President Daniel J. Bernardo.

1. Report from the Chair of the Board of Regents. Regent Niva welcomed everyone to the meeting. She said that since the last Regents’ Meeting, the Regents have participated in a variety of WSU activities including the celebration for Dr. Glenn Terrell in Pullman; the Visitor Center Building Dedication in Pullman; ARCS Convocation in Seattle and the Regents’ Distinguished Alumnus Award Presentation in Pullman.

2. Report from the President of the University. President Floyd thanked the Board for the opportunity to report. He thanked Chancellor Brown for hosting the Board on the Spokane Campus.

He reported that over the last several weeks he has spent a significant amount of time in Washington DC representing not only WSU as part of the Association of Public Land-grant Universities (APLU), but also to have conversations with legislators and others in Washington DC about the impact of the sequester.

He said in FY2013 the sequester meant a 5 percent reduction for most government agencies, many of them primary funders of higher education research and extension programs. He said the National Institutes of Health lost $1.55 billion in the budget cuts; the US Department of Agriculture lost $2 billion. He said that those research and extension programs directly support people and businesses through services, and science-based innovation. He said without a budget agreement, these cuts will be even deeper.

President Floyd provided examples of cuts impacting WSU:

—The College of Agricultural, Human, and Natural Resource Sciences experienced a $3.8 million cut as a result of the sequester and the delay in reauthorizing the Farm Bill. He said they were able to pull together some one-time funds to help bridge to the current fiscal year, in hopes those cuts would be restored. Since they were not restored, important food and nutrition programs aimed at helping low-income populations in the state have been eliminated. He said eliminating the program resulted in the loss of jobs as well as the services those jobs provided.

—The sequester cut funding for Small Business Development Centers (SBDC) around the country. As a result, several Small Business Development Centers WSU operates have been forced to close. He said these are centers specifically designed to prime the economic pump by helping entrepreneurs succeed in communities that most need economic development resources for small business. The SBDCs are revered in their communities for creating jobs and growing businesses. He added at this time, they have identified a small amount of funding to keep at least two offices open and are working with Congressional leaders for a permanent funding solution.

— On-going funding for the Clean Plant Network (CPN) – a facility focused on ensuring the security, health and vitality of the plant stock on which our food supply depends – is in question. Loss of the CPN would cause serious, long-term damage to our state and nation’s food and agricultural industry. The food industry is Washington State’s largest industry, and WSU is a key partner to that industry. Incremental cuts to this industry will have a crippling effect on our state’s economy.

He said that finding bridge funding is not a sustainable model, and WSU will not be able to make those same accommodations next year. Nor will other institutions. He said ongoing fiscal uncertainty at the federal level hurts local and state economies – especially at a time when economic health is just beginning to improve. And, year after year of cuts will damage industries that rely on university research and an educated work force. He said in his opinion, the sequester and its relentless series of cuts is the biggest threat to WSU’s national competitiveness.

Locally, President Floyd reported that the Visitor Center has received rave reviews from everyone who has gone into that particular space. He is grateful to the Brelsford family for their $1 million contribution towards the cost of that building.

He said the Marriott Residence Inn broke ground this spring and will have 131 rooms of extended stay. Amenities will include conversation areas equipped with electronic support, business center, dining area, indoor swimming pool and spa, outdoor patio and fire pit, fitness center, and conference rooms comprising about 2,000 square feet. He said the Inn is scheduled for completion next spring. He also said that Marriott officials have begun conversations with students about employing them in that facility.

He said the new Pharmaceutical and Biomedical Sciences Building which the Regents’ had an opportunity to briefly visit is an amazing facility. He said that people will start moving into their offices within the next few days and he looks forward to having a formal dedication ceremony Friday, December 6.
He said the new Wine Science Center in the Tri-Cities is targeted to be completed next fall. It will be 38,000 square feet and it will serve as a gateway to the Tri-Cities Research District. The design includes state of the art research laboratories, classrooms, conference rooms, and a regional and international wine library. He added that Washington’s grape and wine industry aims to triple its annual economic impact from $8.6 billion to $25.8 billion by 2020. He said it is through this top flight research in teaching that WSU will be able to support that industry. He said the Wine Science Center is yet another example of strategically aligning WSU’s strengths with the priorities of the state.

Lastly, President Floyd announced that on January 1, WSU will increase compensation of 4 percent for faculty, administrative professional staff, and professional graduate students. He added that there will be some merit based components for faculty which is an important piece.

Secretary, Board of Regents
ACTION ITEM #1
WSU, Delegated Authority - Refunding Bonds
(Elson Floyd)

TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF REGENTS

SUBJECT: WSU, Delegated Authority – Refunding Bonds

PROPOSED: That the Board of Regents delegate to the President or his designee the authority to issue refunding bonds when the refunding threshold provisions of the Debt Policy “Refinancing and Refunding Principles” are met or exceeded.

SUBMITTED BY: Elson S. Floyd, President

SUPPORTING INFORMATION: The following is from the Debt Management policy:

"REFINANCING AND REFUNDING PRINCIPLES"

Refinancing may be considered:

- If it relieves the University of covenants, payment obligations, constraints, or reserve requirements that limit flexibility;

- To consolidate debt into a general revenue pledge and/or reduce the cost and administrative burden of managing many small outstanding obligations, after demonstration of the proposed benefits; or

- If the net present value ("NPV") savings to the University exceeds minimum thresholds, when measured as a percentage of the par amount of debt to be refinanced, and the refinancing supports the strategic need of the University.
Refunding Thresholds

- Current refunding (i.e. refinancing completed up to 90 days prior to the first call date for the bonds) may be considered when NPV savings are expected to meet the following thresholds:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Years Between Call Date</th>
<th>Present Value Standard</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1-2</td>
<td>1%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-4</td>
<td>2%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5-6</td>
<td>3%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7+</td>
<td>4%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

- Advance refunding (i.e. refinancing completed more than 90 days prior to the first call date for the bonds) may be considered when NPV savings are expected to meet the following thresholds:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Years Between Call Date and Final Maturity Date</th>
<th>Present Value Standard</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1-2</td>
<td>1%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3-4</td>
<td>2%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5-6</td>
<td>3%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7-8</td>
<td>4%</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9+</td>
<td>5%</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

In order to respond to refunding opportunities as they arise, management requests the Board of Regents delegate authority to the president or his designee to refund bonds when the refunding threshold provisions of the Debt Policy “Refinancing and Refunding Principles” are met or exceeded. This will allow the University to refinance debt as market conditions allow.

Management will report such refundings and related cost savings as an informational item as part of the annual debt report. In addition, as part of the annual debt report, management will present a copy of the debt policy that contains the refunding thresholds so the Board of Regents may reaffirm the thresholds and the overall debt policy.
Board of Regents
WSU, Delegated Authority - Refunding Bonds

WHEREAS, the Board of Regents of Washington State University by virtue of RCW 28B.10.528 has authority to delegate by resolution to the President of the University, or designee, powers and duties vested in or imposed upon the Board by law and to enable the President, or designee to act on behalf of the Board of Regents in matters relating to the administration and governance of the University.

RESOLVED: That the Board of Regents delegate to the President or his designee the authority to issue refunding bonds when the refunding threshold provisions of the Debt Policy “Refinancing and Refunding Principles” are met or exceeded.

SUBJECT: Amendments to the ASWSU Global Campus Constitution

PROPOSED: That the Board of Regents approve amendments to the ASWSU Global Campus Constitution

SUBMITTED BY: Dave Cillay, Vice President Global Campus

SUPPORTING INFORMATION: Amendments to the ASWSU Global Campus constitution are being proposed primarily to update language to reflect the name change to Global Campus.

Many of the proposed amendments involve the removal of legacy terms such as Distance, Extended, and Online, to be replaced with terms that reference Global Campus.

Amendments are also proposed for Article IV, Section 6.A, which allows the ASWSU Global Campus President to develop the meeting calendar for the year; Article IV, Section 7. E (1), which removes the term “impeachment” in a section dealing with recall elections; and Article V, Sections 2 and 7, which are procedural alterations that allow the vice president to run for office on an independent ticket.

WAC 504-37-010 Smoking and tobacco use—Authority. Pursuant to RCW 28B.30.150(1), the Washington State University (WSU) board of regents is granted authority to establish rules and regulations for tobacco use on property owned, operated, and/or maintained by the university.

NEW SECTION

WAC 504-37-020 Smoking and tobacco products. Washington State University Vancouver acknowledges the findings of the United States Surgeon General that tobacco use in any form, active and passive, is a significant health hazard. The university further recognizes that the United States Environmental Protection Agency classifies environmental tobacco smoke as a class A carcinogen. In light of these health risks, and in support of a safe and healthy learning/working environment, WSU Vancouver establishes the restrictions in this section, WAC 504-37-010, and 504-37-030, otherwise collectively referred to as the WSU Vancouver smoking and tobacco use policy.

1. Smoking or other tobacco usage is not permitted within the perimeter of WSU Vancouver property. Smoking materials must be extinguished and disposed of prior to entering WSU Vancouver property or exiting vehicles. Improper disposal, including spitting smokeless tobacco or discarding cigarette butts on the ground or out of a vehicle, is not permitted.

2. The WSU Vancouver smoking and tobacco use policy applies to all students, faculty, and staff or other persons using university facilities.

3. The WSU Vancouver smoking and tobacco use policy is not intended to impede on institutional review board (IRB) research projects. IRB-approved research projects are exempt from this policy.

4. Definitions. For the purposes of this chapter, the terms "tobacco products" and "premises" are defined as follows:
   a. Tobacco products. Cigarettes, cigars, pipes, hookah, all forms of smokeless tobacco, electronic cigarettes, clove cigarettes and other alternative products made primarily with tobacco.
   b. Premises. All buildings, grounds, state-owned vehicles and equipment (motor pool, maintenance) including, but not limited to, parking lots, bus stops, county-owned and WSU-maintained streets or sidewalks, recreational fields and all open common areas within the WSU Vancouver campus.

5. The sale and/or free distribution of tobacco products or tobacco-related merchandise is prohibited on university property.

6. Sponsorship of campus events by tobacco-promoting organizations is prohibited.
(7) Advertisement of tobacco products at university events is prohibited regardless of sponsorship.

(8) Tobacco use on university property or improper disposal of smoking materials may result in disciplinary action. Employees may be subject to corrective or disciplinary action and students may be referred to the WSU Vancouver office of student conduct. Other violators may be trespassed from the WSU Vancouver campus and subject to other sanctions available to enforce the smoking and tobacco use policy.

(9) Signage: Signs declaring WSU Vancouver "tobacco-free" are to be posted at the campus entries and other conspicuous places.

NEW SECTION

Members of the WSU Vancouver community may notify public safety of repeat offenders and/or of disruptive behavior. The following WSU Vancouver persons and departments are responsible for ensuring that the WSU Vancouver smoking and tobacco use policy is communicated to employees, students, visitors and others in the WSU Vancouver community as indicated:

WAC 504-45-040 Processing of public records requests—General. (1) Providing "fullest assistance." The university is charged by statute with adopting rules which provide for how it will "provide full access to public records," "protect records from damage or disorganization," "prevent excessive interference with the essential functions of the agency," provide "fullest assistance" to requestors, and provide the "most timely possible action" on public records requests. The public records officer or designee will process requests in the order allowing the most requests to be processed in the most efficient manner.

(2) Acknowledging receipt of request. Within five business days of receipt of the request, the public records officer or designee will do one or more of the following:

(a) Make the records available for inspection or copying;
(b) If copies are requested and payment for the copies, if any, is made or terms of payment are agreed upon, send the copies to the requestor;
(c) Provide a reasonable estimate of when records will be available;

[ 2 ] OTS-5505.3
(d) If the request is unclear or does not sufficiently identify the requested records, request clarification from the requestor. Such clarification may be requested and provided by telephone, e-mail or mail. Based upon that clarification, the public records officer or designee may revise the estimate of when records will be available; or
(e) Deny the request.

(3) Consequences of failure to respond. If the university does not respond in writing within five business days of receipt of the request for disclosure, the requestor should consider contacting the public records officer or designee to determine the reason for the failure to respond.

(4) Protecting rights of others. In the event that the requested records contain information that may affect rights of others and may be exempt from disclosure, the public records officer or designee may, prior to providing the records, give notice to such others whose rights may be affected by the disclosure. Such notice should be given so as to make it possible for those other persons to contact the requestor and ask him or her to revise the request, or, if necessary, seek an order from a court to prevent or limit the disclosure. The notice to the affected persons will include a copy of the request.

(5) Records exempt from disclosure. Some records are exempt from disclosure, in whole or in part. If the university believes that a record is exempt from disclosure and should be withheld, the public records officer or designee will state the specific exemption and provide a brief explanation of why the record or a portion of the record is being withheld. If only a portion of a record is exempt from disclosure, but the remainder is not exempt, the public records officer or designee will redact the exempt portions, provide the nonexempt portions, and indicate to the requestor why portions of the record are being redacted.

(6) Inspection of records.
(a) Consistent with other demands, the university shall promptly provide space to inspect public records. No member of the public may remove a document from the viewing area or disassemble or alter any document. The requestor shall indicate which documents he or she wishes the university to copy.
(b) The requestor must claim or review the assembled records within thirty days of the university's notification to him or her that the records are available for inspection or copying. The university will notify the requestor in writing of this requirement and inform the requestor that he or she should contact the university to make arrangements to claim or review the records. If the requestor or a representative of the requestor fails to claim or review the records within the thirty-day period or make other arrangements, the university may close the request. Other public records requests can be processed ahead of a subsequent request by the same person for the same or almost identical records, which can be processed as a new request.

(7) Providing copies of records. After inspection is complete, the public records officer or designee shall make any copies of records requested by the requestor or arrange for copying.

(8) Providing records in installments. When the request is for a large number of records, the public records officer or designee will provide access for inspection and copying in installments, if he or she reasonably determines that it would be practical to provide the records in that way. If, within thirty days, the requestor fails to inspect the entire set of records or one or more of the installments, the public records officer or designee may stop searching for the remaining records and close the request.

(9) Completion of inspection. When the inspection of the requested records is complete and all requested copies are provided, the public records officer or designee will indicate that the university has completed a diligent search for the requested records and made any located nonexempt records available for inspection.

(10) Closing withdrawn or abandoned request. When the requestor either withdraws the request or fails to fulfill his or her obligations to inspect the records or pay the deposit or final payment for the requested copies, the public records officer or designee will close the request and indicate to the requestor that the university has closed the request.

(11) Later discovered documents. If, after the university has informed the requestor that it has provided all available records, the university becomes aware of additional responsible documents existing at the time of the request, it will promptly inform the requestor of the additional documents and will make them available for inspection or provide copies upon payment on an expedited basis.

AMENDATORY SECTION (Amending WSR 07-04-027, filed 1/29/07, effective 3/1/07)

(3) Customized access to databases. With the consent of the requestor, the university may provide customized access under RCW 43.41A.130 if the record is not reasonably locatable or not reasonably translatable into the format requested. The university may charge a fee consistent with RCW 43.41A.130 for such customized access.

MINUTES
Joint Meeting between the Boards of Regents of Washington State University and the University of Washington
November 29, 2013

The Boards of Regents of the University of Washington and the Washington State University held a special meeting, beginning at 9:30 a.m., in the Jim Houston Boardroom at Husky Stadium. The notice of the special meeting was provided appropriately to the public and the media.

Present from the University of Washington: Regents Orin Smith (Chair), Joanne Harrell, Jeremy Jaech, Constance Rice, Rogelio Riojas, Kiana Scott, Patrick Shanahan, and Herb Simon; the President of the University of Washington, Michael K. Young; and the Provost of the University of Washington, Ana Mari Cauce.

Present from Washington State University: Regents Constance Niva (Chair), Ted Baseler, Ryan Durkan, Francois Forgette, Lindsey Schaffer, Ron Sims, and Michael Worthy; and the President of the Washington State University, Elson S. Floyd.

1. OPENING COMMENTS AND INTRODUCTIONS. Regent Smith welcomed the President of Washington State University, Elson Floyd, the Board Chair, Connie Niva, and other Washington State University Regents. He announced Governor Inslee was scheduled to join the meeting at 9:45 a.m.

He invited Presidents Floyd and Young to update the Boards on the WWAMI (Washington, Wyoming, Alaska, Montana, Idaho) Program Regional Medical Education Partnership collaboration in Spokane.

2. REMARKS: Update on Regional Medical Education Partnership in Spokane (WWAMI). President Floyd began the update by stating both institutions serve as huge economic drivers for the state. He thanked Regent Smith, President Young, and the UW Regents for hosting the meeting, and asked Regents to introduce themselves.

He reported the WWAMI program has been one of the leading medical education programs in the world. It was established to extend the footprint of the University of Washington throughout Washington and into Wyoming, Alaska, Montana, and Idaho, by offering medical education to those other states that lack the infrastructure. The program was extended outside Seattle to include Pullman and Spokane. A transformative and exciting conversation about medical education has been held over the last two years. Currently a pilot program offers the second year of medical school education in Spokane. This is important for the economic vitality of Spokane. During this pilot year, nineteen UW students attend their second-year class in Spokane. Funding has been requested from the legislature for future years. Private contributions, jointly raised by UW and WSU, provided initial funding for the nineteen students. President Floyd said he expects continued collaboration as the two research institutions move forward to provide medical education. Last year, WSU built a biomedical building funded by approximately $35 million approved by the state legislature and an additional $35 million from WSU’s bonding capacity. President Floyd praised this as a “world class facility.” WSU’s Pharmacy program will relocate from Pullman to Spokane and occupy the new facility beginning in January of 2014.

The city of Spokane is instrumental to the state of Washington. Consequently the WSU Board of Regents designated the WSU Spokane campus as its Health Sciences Campus. Some of the work done there will be in collaboration with Eastern Washington University and in partnership with University of Washington for medical education. This, President Floyd said, makes strategic and financial sense.

Regents received a copy of the first volume of WSU Spokane offering an inside look at WSU’s health sciences campus. The publication is attached to these minutes.

President Young praised the WWAMI program as “extraordinary.” He termed it a genuine partnership with Washington State University. The program is in its forty-second year, signed into existence by Governor Dan Evans, and has delivered on the promise to provide inexpensive, high quality medical education. The American Medical Association has identified a shortage of doctors in this country and the WWAMI program is able to address this by training an increased numbers of physicians.

The partnership in Spokane is a particularly powerful one. Historically, students attended their first year of classes on site, the second year in Seattle, and then returned to the community locations to complete the last two years. Moving the second year to Spokane allows students to complete the full four years there, and creates cohesiveness and coherence that will be very powerful. As a pilot program, students were invited to attend their second year in Spokane, and nineteen opted to do so; fifteen of those had been there for their first year and four were from other locations. President Young praised the Spokane community as the reason the students chose to stay there. The community offered host families, engagement with local physicians, an outstanding physical facility, and high quality support staff. This is currently a pilot program, however the goal is to persuade legislators it is worthy of permanent funding.

President Young praised WSU as a remarkable partner in this endeavor.

Questions and discussion followed the Presidents’ presentation.

3. DISCUSSION: Higher Education in the State of Washington with Governor Jay Inslee

Upon the Governor’s arrival, Regent Smith welcomed Governor Jay Inslee to the meeting and invited him to make a few remarks. Commenting on the WWAMI program, Governor Inslee said it was great to see the two institutions working together. Funding for this and other programs depends on the ability of the state of Washington to develop a resource and revenue base that is consistent with the expectations of its citizens. Revenue, as a percentage of the economy, on a per capita basis is going down in the state of Washington and is thirteen to twenty percent below what it was six years ago. The state needs to establish a foundation of revenues to make it possible to accomplish its great work and fund the universities.

Questions and discussion followed. Regent Smith asked how UW and WSU might work with the Governor and the legislature to help the Governor achieve his goals for the state.

Governor Inslee asked that Regents on both Boards maximize the incredible assets of their campuses to educate legislators about the work being done at both Universities. He encouraged Regents to invite legislators to their campuses and challenged a competition between the two schools for hosting the most legislators.

He also asked Regents to become personal advocates for the larger mission of the state. Governor Inslee distributed charts, which are attached to these minutes. He described the challenge to find revenue sources that would be politically possible and are as least unfair as possible. He plans to look at existing exemptions that are no longer economically productive or meaningful to the state.

President Floyd commended the Governor for his leadership in pushing both universities to focus on economic growth and vitality for the state. He cited the Governor’s advocacy as making a huge difference. The Governor replied that the universities are principal economic drivers for the state.

Regent Niva expressed concern about the elimination of sales tax on transportation construction projects, which would reduce general fund revenue. The Governor described the current situation.

Regent Simon welcomed Governor and Mrs. Inslee. He said colleges in the state do a fairly good job of inviting legislators to their campuses but acknowledged they could do a better job to educate them about the importance of higher education. It is challenging to compete in a world of limited resources – competing with “transportation, incarceration, and medication,” three major issues that have more stakeholders and voters than education. He requested the Governor’s leadership to increase state funding for higher education.

Regent Harrell asked for the Governor’s reflections on ways UW and WSU can work together more effectively, as research institutions and with the higher education community, to tell the story of the importance of higher education to the state. The Governor suggested both Boards act individually and collectively to talk about successes, saying it is important to show successes and efficiencies, and highlight the access both schools offer. He described the structural economic problem as being beyond the recent recession. The current method of generating revenue is structurally inadequate to support higher education and the K-12 systems. The state’s per person revenue production is decreasing, while there is increasing demand per person for state services.

President Young praised the Governor’s understanding and passion for higher education. He agreed with the Governor’s suggestion to invite legislators onto campus saying it’s more meaningful for them to experience the Universities than to hear about them.

Regent Smith commented on the challenges of the current tax structure and the state services caseload growth caused by demographic changes combined with the state’s population growth resulting in a shortage of revenue to satisfy funding requirements.

Regent Jaech commented on the state’s increasing population, saying the economic impact of the growth varies depending on if the increased population includes net service users or net revenue producers. He acknowledged this is a federal issue, and encouraged allowing increased immigration for graduate students and then permitting them to stay in the state to build businesses or work in high-paying jobs. Governor Inslee suggested the option of either changing the minds of the current congress or changing the representatives themselves. He added the President, senators, and the American people understand and support the importance of entrepreneurship and growing businesses.

Provost Cauce commented on the value of educating “first generation” students, those who are the first in their families to attend college, saying this adds to the number of people in the state who will be net contributors to revenues and also potentially decreasing the number of users of services.

ADJOURN. Regent Smith thanked the Governor, University Presidents, and Regents for attending and adjourned the joint special meeting at 10:30 a.m.

Approved by the Board of Regents at its meeting held January 24, 2014, at the Consolidated Information Center 212-214.
