The Board of Regents of Washington State University met pursuant to call in Open Meeting at 9:00 a.m., on Friday, November 19, 2010, in the Compton Union Building, Room 204, Pullman, Washington.

Present: Regent Laura Jennings, Chair; Regents Theodor Baseler, Scott Carson (until 9:30 a.m.), Ericka Christensen, Harold Cochran, Elizabeth Cowles, Francois X. Forgette, Connie Niva, V. Rafael Stone, and Michael Worthy; President Elson S. Floyd, and Executive Assistant to the President and Board of Regents Christine Hoyt.

1. Report from the Chair of the Board of Regents. Regent Laura Jennings welcomed everyone to the Regents’ Meeting. She noted that since the last Regents’ meeting, members of the Board of Regents had continued to be quite active. She indicated that Regent Niva moderated the “Women in Public Service” panel discussion held in Pullman, several Regents participated in the College Success Foundation dinner in Seattle, Regents participated in ARCS events in Seattle, Student Regent Ericka Christensen joined the Washington State Delegation to the Governors’ Global Climate Summit in California, and lastly, Regents Niva, Christensen, and herself attended the Association of Faculty Women dinner that was held in Pullman the previous evening.

2. Report from the President of the University. President Elson S. Floyd thanked the Board for the opportunity to report. He began by discussing the budget process and said that the Chancellors and the administrative Vice Presidents have submitted their budget reduction plans and that they are posted on the website. He also said the Deans and the Provost submitted their budget reduction scenarios, that he and Provost Bayly are currently reviewing those scenarios with the Deans on an individual basis, and that they hope to conclude that process later in the day. He said that this process will then position them to go through the scenarios produced by the Deans to determine whether those plans are in the best interest of the University first and then secondly, whether they will meet the budget targets that are in place. He said that under the timeline they are currently operating, they would begin the public vetting of the proposals from the Deans and the Provost on or about December 1. He said that he will hold public forums to allow the institution and others to comment and will begin final implementation of the budget reduction scenarios on or about January 1. He said the process has taken much longer than anticipated but they wanted to make sure that it was right.

President Floyd also reported that the revenue forecast continues to be “bad news on top of bad news.” He said that the recently released forecast projects a $1.2 billion shortfall in receipts—revenues that the State will receive between now and June 2013. He said that within the current fiscal environment, to balance the budget by the end of June would require further reductions of approximately $385 million by the Governor. He reminded the Board that that’s on top of the $520 million the State has already reduced its budget. He further stated that the Senate and House Leadership are beginning to identify leaders within the legislature and said that he feels good about the leaders that are being chosen.

President Floyd noted that the Apple Cup and Joint meeting with the University of Washington are coming up. He said that Dr. Arun Raha, Washington’s Chief Economist will talk about the budget forecast and that Governor Gregoire will also attend. Lastly, he said that there will be a major announcement in the context of fundraising initiatives on December 2, and he urged everyone to join in what will be a great day at Washington State University.

the quiet phase of the Campaign and several individuals contributed in moving WSU “over the top.” Regent Baseler also reported that the Committee heard from Athletic Director, Bill Moos, who presented ideas on the potential renovation to the south side of Martin Stadium, as opposed to the original north side renovation plan. He said that this new south side proposal would include premium (club/loge) seating, and a new press box. He also presented an idea to build the football training facility on the west side of the stadium and provided information about the economics related to this proposal and also the superior amenities that would provide.
